League Selects Six New Board Members

Appointed Officials from Mount Pleasant, Rogers City, Kingsley, Battle Creek, East Lansing, and Jackson

LANSING, Michigan – Six local government officials from throughout the state were recently named as the newest members of the Michigan Municipal League Board of Trustees.

Selected to the Board on Friday, Jan. 27, 2012, were Battle Creek Mayor Susan Baldwin; Rogers City Mayor Pro Tem Debra Greene; Jackson Councilmember Daniel Greer; Mount Pleasant City Manager Kathie S. Grinzing; East Lansing Mayor Pro Tem Nathan Triplett; and Kingsley Village Manager Adam J. Umbrasas.

“We are honored to have these members serve on our Board,” said League President Karen Majewski, Hamtramck Mayor. “We feel that each person selected will do an excellent job representing his or her community and region and helping further the League’s mission to restore Michigan to prosperity.”

The League believes that Michigan’s future economic prosperity is dependent on having vibrant places and communities where people want to live, work and have fun. Responsible for developing and guiding the organization’s public policy initiatives and legislative agenda, the six newly elected trustees join 13 volunteers also serving on the 19-member Board. The League represents more than 500 Michigan cities, villages and urban townships. Additional board members are Majewski; Linden Mayor David Lossing, board vice president; Ypsilanti Mayor Pro Tem Lois Allen-Richardson; Brighton Councilmember Ricci Bandkau; Wakefield Mayor Richard Bolen; Cedar Springs Councilmember Patricia Capek; Ironwood City Manager Scott Erickson; Paw Paw Village Manager Larry Nielsen; Utica Mayor Jacqueline Noonan; Saginaw Councilmember Amos O’Neal; Eastpointe Mayor Suzanne Pixley; Detroit City Council President Charles Pugh; and Port Huron Mayor Pauline Repp.
