

Gilmartin To Keynote ULI Michigan's 3rd Annual P3 Conference

Grand Rapids, MI, March 24, 2012: The Urban Land Institute of Michigan (ULI) and the Michigan Municipal League (MML) will present the 3rd Annual Public/Private/Partnership (P3) Conference at DeVos Place in Downtown Grand Rapids on the morning of April 19, 2012. The past two conferences in Rochester and Lansing have been overwhelming successes and attracted more than 450 of the State's leading real estate developers, investors, public officials, academics and professional service providers

Dan Gilmartin, MML's Executive Director & CEO, will give the keynote address and discuss how to balance community wants with market realities. "It's more important now than ever before that seemingly disparate groups find common ground to build communities that attract our young leaders to live, work, shop and play in Michigan."

Additionally, the ULI will bring buyers and sellers together for Deal Making opportunities where municipalities, schools and nonprofits can unveil their surplus properties and market to prospective investors at Deal Making tables.

Non-members of ULI can save $100 off membership when they register for this event at michigan.uli.org. For registration and sponsorship information, please contact ULI Coordinator, Ms. Shannon Sclafani at ssclafani@uli.org or 248/807-1600.

Click here for more details on registering for the event.

####

The Nation's leading think tank for land use and real estate development, ULI is the organization that developers, investors, public official, academia and professional service providers rely on for solutions to Urban Restoration and the built environment. Founded in 1989 by Wayne Doran, then CEO of Ford Land, ULI Michigan now counts icons of the real estate industry among its' members - Taubman, Larson, Schostak, Etkin Kiriluk, Cullen, Farbman, Gliberman, Beebe and Rossetti.